Noonan—Incorporated 1907

Noonan was born in 1906 with the arrival of the Great Northern Railroad. On August 4, 1906, Mrs. Carrie Everson, a widow, with four sons and one daughter, filed for 160 acres from the US Land Office for the price of $199.70. On August 14, 1906 she sold to Guy Grove for $3725. Grove then sold to ND Great Northern Townsite Co. on August 31, 1906. Great Northern Townsite Co. platted it out to become a village on Oct. 15, 1906. Noonan officially became a village in 1907. The village of Noonan became a city on Sept. 14, 1928.

To boost Noonan, the Great Northern made a standing offer to anyone who would start a business, and to businessmen of Kermit, that would be willing to move their buildings to Noonan, a lot without any expense to the owner.

Noonan got its name from the Patrick Noonan family of nine sons and three daughters, many settled on homesteads in the vicinity and did a lot of farming in the area. Patrick Noonan, Sr. became the first mayor of Noonan and was later appointed the first Treasurer of Divide County (1910).

Julius Gits of Portal started the first business block in town with a general store called the Golden Rule. C. L. Rouse erected the second general store but it was destroyed by fire. Rouse persisted and erected a brick store shortly afterward called Mercantile Company.

Other first businesses included; an implement store operated by Henry Nelson (who later became Divide County's first sheriff); a hotel operated by Henry Kotschevar; the first light plant run by Nordman and Trenne; and two blacksmith shops owned by a Mr. Cornwall and Patrick Noonan, Jr.

A plot of land was given to the School District to build the 'new' school on Nov. 7, 1953. The District acquired the deed to the land on Mar. 29, 1954. The City of Noonan purchased the building and land July 8, 1986 from the Divide County School District for $1.00. The building is now known as the Noonan Community Center.

Churches organized in the first years included: Noonan Methodist; St. Luke's Catholic; Bethlehem Lutheran; and the Assembly of God. Currently only St. Luke's Catholic and Bethlehem Lutheran continue to have services.
